TRENDS

It's time to ring in the new year and find the common threads that suit your style. The following six trends were curated as a guide to discovering your palette. We have done extensive research to find the material; now it's time to make that choice for your home.

- NFT (New Fun Tile)
- Cranium Inspiration
- Outdoor Essence
- Serenity Calling
- Reminiscence Flash
- Empathic Expression

nft FILE

The NFT trend is the growing age of technology blended with modern-day living spaces. Gadgets that help the everyday human are now delivered right to your doorstep. Man Caves are turning into gaming rooms while art studios are migrating to a YouTube film set. This look is for anyone that likes dark or monochromatic colors, mosaics that have a blend of metal paired with gray floor tile that glistens in any color of lighting.

Cranium Inspiration

Cranium Inspiration is for artistic individuals that enjoy expressing themselves through bright colors, bold patterns, and funky shapes. No right or wrong design with this trend as it focuses on your creativity. We sometimes forget that we make this living space for us, not architectural magazines. This trend is a staple of your imagination with fun wall tile and the deco pattern floor to match.

OUTDOOR

Essence

Outdoor Essence celebrates the imperfections of nature. The grit of stone, the knot you see in lumber, and the colors you find on earth. Biophilia defines as holding close contact with nature. The pandemic has streamlined this trend to the very front with a dire need for bringing the outdoors in to bring wholeness to mind, body, and spirit. Wood-style planks, recycled glass mosaics, and natural-looking materials flourish with this trend.

SERENITY

Calling

There is a time in the day when you need simplicity, moments where you can walk in a space and feel mentally sound and clear. Serenity Calling is a trend that focuses on minimalism. Making every item that surrounds you have a purpose, not just a theme. We all are guilty of consumerism in one way or another. This practice blends in with interior design because of the cohesiveness available between all materials. Your color tones vary with a choice of finishings.

Reminiscence Flash

Reminiscence Flash is about embracing the memories of our childhood past with meaningful objects, shapes, and colors in our living space. We are a definition of our past when it comes to generational style. You can find the most modern architecture with unique decor on the inside; some would say dated, and others would say timeless. Natural wood tones, retro lighting, and wicker furniture are the staple of this trend.

Empathic Expression

Positive reinforcement and acceptance are tools for creating great relationships. Walking into a space with a sense of safety is the forerunner of this trend. Empathic expression is soft to the touch with light and airy colors. Textures that take shape and are gentle on the eye. Carrara marble, wood-style planks, and stone mosaics are essential for expressing empathy for any living quarters.
